Hussar Youth Drowns In Irrigation Ditch

George Simmons, 23 years of age, was drowned on Monday evening of this week in a small irrigation ditch located 4 and a half miles northwest of Hussar, Cochrane Ridge, of the local detachment, R.C.M.P., joined Corporal Agate of Oshesha on Tuesday morning and supervised the dragging in search of the body, which was located shortly before noon that day.

Simmons, an employee on the farm of Roy Hobbins, went swimming with two companions, Robert Wadling and Kenneth Ronaldson, 13 and 14 years of age. In attempting to swim across the backwaters of the dam, Simmons started struggling. A heroic effort on the part of Ronaldson to save the drowning man, almost resulted in his death too, when he was choked and pulled under the surface. After breaking loose, he was barely able to swim to shore. Forced to abandon the rescue, there remained nothing that the lads could do but watch Simmons drown.

The body was taken to Calgary, where funeral services were conducted later in the week.

FIRST WHEAT DELIVERED AT ARROWWOOD

First delivery of 1939 wheat to elevator in the Arrowwood district was made Wednesday by Walter Steiner, well known farmer of the south country. The grain was delivered to Fred Miller, agent of the Wheat Pool elevator at that point.

The sample graded No. 1 northern and weighed 60 and one-half pounds per bushel.

Prospects Fair: Expected To Better '38 Deliveries

Harvest operations in the Bassano district were commenced on some farms this week, as farmers rushed to get repair work on machines for the season. Cutting of grain by the bands of Crowfoot extended the ladies of the community at a shower in honor of Mrs. B. Robbourn this afternoon.

Mr. Wm. Robbourn, a popular local boy, has accepted the position as agent in the Crowfoot Pool Elevator.

On Tuesday evening, August 8, a chaffinch was held for Mr. and Mrs. B. Robbourn. The evening was greatly enjoyed, and took the form of a Barn Dance in the Robbourn home. Approximately 100 persons attended. Besides numerous small gifts, the couple were presented with a complete set of dishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Guyatt and Alice Brooks are holidaying in Calgary and Banff.

A number of Crowfoot citizens were Calgary visitors on Tuesday of this week in the office.

Local elevators have been undergoing extensive repair programs the past week, in preparation for the grain season, and many improvements have been made.

Farmers in the district are busy preparing for the harvest season which is at hand.

The Gamble Family of Coonville were Sunday visitors at Campbell's in Malespore.

Mr. Bert Rose and Mr. Verle Campbell were Calgary visitors on Tuesday.

WEDDINGS

BRUCE-CARY
A quiet wedding of interest to local citizens was solemnized at the United Church - Menno, Strathmore, by the Rev. V. M. Gilbert on July 24th, when he united in marriage Mrs. Margaret Cary and Mr. Charles Bruce of Calgary. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce will reside at 1237 18th St. W., Calgary.

On a regular week day pedestrian deaths make up one-third of the total killed in traffic accidents, according to the 1939 edition of Accident Facts.

But on Sundays and holidays the percentage of pedestrians among the dead in the wake of traffic accidents drops to 37 per cent.

Obviously says the Alberta Safety League, this is because there are fewer pedestrians on the streets and highways on Sundays and holidays. The pedestrians aren't going to and from work or shopping back and forth across the streets on shopping hours and business calls.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Howe of Brooks motored up on Sunday to visit Mrs. Howe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harwell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Vist and family spent Saturday evening and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wolf of Bassano.

Mr. J. Cooke and son, Jack, of Fullertonville visited at the Ryan home last Saturday.

The Ladies' Club met at the home of Mrs. Arnold, with Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Pollock as hostesses recently. After the business meeting was over, games and contests occupied the greater part of the program. Mrs. Hyrre and Mrs. Vist were the lucky winners.

Harvest is in full swing in the Arrowwood district. The annual meeting of the Gem Ladies' Community Club will be held Thursday, were Calgary visitors last week.

In Camp At Banff

A New and interesting camp site had to be selected this year for the Bassano Boy Scout Troop. World famous Banff is providing an impressive and novel set of quarters for the boys.

The mountains, the hot springs, swimming pools, museum, zoo, wild animals, fish hatcheries, tourists from all parts of the globe, and many other things provide a fund of new experiences.

At 1 p.m. Saturday, August 12th, the Bassano Boy Scout party left Bassano for Banff, under the leadership of Arrison and Currie.

Mr. Harris' truck provided the transportation. In Calgary, the group stopped for army issue, cooking utensils, and other camp equipment. This necessitated a trip to the army quarters at Sarsco Camp, and meant a considerable loss in time.

At the time leaving Calgary, on the Hillhurst Road, the gasoline pump stopped working, and detained the party again, but under the able manipulation of A. Cadot, they were later able to proceed with few stops up to Banff.

They arrived at their camp site near Tunnel Mountain, between Quebec and Fredrick Streets at 6 p.m. After setting up tents, the party drove down town where they had supper and enjoyed a movie called "The Man in the Iron Mask."

Sunday morning the advance party changed all the tents, and set them up at a new place. About 3 p.m. the rest of the troop arrived in the camp with Irvine Young and Jimmie Oatman in charge.

A few of the boys looked over the town of Banff and soon after Scout Master McLaw arrived in camp. During the evening a large black bear, created some excitement, when he appeared near the camp.

Monday morning the boys went for couple of miles run before breakfast. At 9:40 camp inspection by HERMAN STEINBACH.

Just before going to press, Mr. G. Warren, Alberta Pacific Grain Buyer at this point, telephoned the office to report receiving the delivery of the first load of 1939 wheat from the farm of Herman Steinbach, south of Bassano.

Mr. Warren reports that the sample looked very good, and had fine color. Grade and weight had not yet been tested.

Mr. Steinbach is continuing his crop, and commenced operations today.

LOCAL TEACHERS' PLAY
PRESENTED AT SUN. SCHOOL. A play, entitled "The Wheat Raisers," written by Mr. A. S. Currie of the local teaching staff, was presented to students at the Edmonton Summer school recently.

The play involved reaching people of southern Saskatchewan, and had a cast of eight. Mr. Currie did not take a part in the play.

Presentation of this play adds another to the list that Mr. Currie has written and had enacted at various times.

Banff, Aug. 16th.

The Scout Master. This means that each patrol is inspected separately for discipline of tent, blankets, uniform and person. After the morning meal, the whole troop took a hike down Bow Valley, under assistant Scout Master, Ralph Arrison. Here they obtained views of the Hoodoos and of Cascade River. During the third afternoon session, each Patrol went sight-seeing to Banff town.

Arrowwood

BORN—On August 18th, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Page of Shoolie, a son, at Mrs. Mason's Nursing Home.

Gordon Ingraham had his tonsils removed on Tuesday at Dr. Llesmer's office, and was taken to Mrs. Mason's Nursing Home until he returned home on Wednesday.

Mrs. McConnel of Calgary was a visitor at the home of Mrs. Geo. Leith for a few days.

Mrs. J. Kiborn arrived in Arrowwood last Friday evening and will visit here for a while.

Mrs. M. McNeely and two daughters of Calgary are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams of Arrowwood.

Miss Betty Jones left Monday for the United States where she will attend school this coming term.

Misses Grace and Freda Board returned home on Sunday after spending a two week holiday in Calgary.

A number of the tennis players of Arrowwood went to Glenora last week for a tennis tournament. Glenora is asked here for the following Sunday.

Fire Equipment Tested Wednes.

Sounding of the fire bell summoned members of the local Volunteer Fire Brigade last night at approximately 7:30 p.m., when the first fire practice of the season was called. The occasion was rather a memorable one, as it also served as an initiation call for the recently constructed motor fire truck.

From the time the truck started rolling from the fire hall to the source of the "unposed" alarm, the water was actually flowing through the hose in the line of fire protection approximately three and one-half minutes. The truck travelled a distance of four blocks, and the hose was connected to a hydrant at the corner just west of Roy Smith's garage.

A number of local citizens were also on hand to witness the performance of the new truck, and see the more efficient service offered to the town in the line of fire protection.

Last week it was stated that the truck was made with a Chev. motor. Since that time, it has been discovered that it was a Ford motor instead. However, Chev. or Ford, the main object is that it is a motor driven vehicle, and is capable of reaching some of a fire in approximately one quarter, or less, of the time it took for the old horse-drawn fire wagon.

The brigade claim that they are not through remodeling their equipment, and bringing it up-to-date, as yet. They are now striving to obtain a siren to replace the present bell at the fire hall. When this feat is accomplished, Bassano will have a fire department second to none in the province. We saw. More power to the Volunteer Fire Brigade."

Obviously says the Alberta Safety League, this is because there are fewer pedestrians on the streets and highways on Sundays and holidays. The pedestrians aren't going to and from work or shopping back and forth across the streets on shopping hours and business calls.

This Week in Edmonton

Alberta's election day will be announced within a few days after a federal election has been called. It becomes clearer over the week-end. Provincial government officials have been instructed to stand ready for it, and it is possible that the provincial election may be announced on Sunday night when Premier Albert's Edmonton Provincial Club Conference reopens after a summer lay-off.

Alberta's mid last week that he intended to make an election announcement when he was ready, by radio, so that everybody can hear it. Interestingly the whole population of the province to listen to his Sunday politico-religious broadcast services through which he does most of his political campaigning without danger of heckling or questioning.

Those opposed to Albertism are just as anxious as the premier to be sure everyone should listen to him over the air and on the platform. They say it is the public duty to listen to him at every opportunity and to compare his statements with known facts. In order that his methods and the extent of his complete control in government can be best understood, they are saying that the best way to listen to him is to have a radio set in the home.

The Albertian version of a bank the "credit" scheme which creates its own credit and its money by taking hard cash from depositors and from the public treasury and by charging depositors ten percent to get their money back in cash rather than in vouchers, was pointed out by the premier in his last week as the hope of "monetary reform" in Alberta within a couple of years - if he is re-elected, of course. "State medicine" is also being around the corner if he is re-elected, he said.

At other places, he said that for the past four years he had carried out 99 per cent of his 1935 re-election promises. At other he said he hadn't because he wasn't allowed to do it, but that everything would have been done if various acts of his legislature had not been vetoed by the federal government or ruled invalid by the courts. Hon. E. C. Manning has even been known to state that the famous $25 a month dividend would have been paid if the federal government had not prevented it.

The ghost of the past, as well as common sense, rises to ruin that claim, however, observers in Edmonton said, publicly after his return to England a year ago that the legislation really means nothing at all to Social Credit, but was just a "trial balloon" sent up to rouse public opinion. Albert himself said once in Edmonton that disallowance made no difference to his government's real plans.

Housing Problem Becoming Serious in Bassano.

There is not a vacant house in Bassano, suitable for renting, that may be had by prospective renters. At the present time, anyone having a house or dwelling quarters in town must prepare a good rent, and have difficulty in finding a tenant. When a contrast is made to what it was a year ago, when houses were plentiful and rents were cheap.

During the years of the depression, house owners who were forced to move elsewhere in search of a better livelihood, either sold their homes or allowed them to be claimed by tax sale. A number of the houses that were sold, were moved out of Bassano to heavily developed farms just east of here in the irrigation project. Although it was believed at the time that the need of these houses would be felt at some future period, it was hard to visualize some of the houses that were sold ever becoming occupied.

Several of these were built during the boom years, and even in the good years around 1929 they remained vacant. Now, however, say one of these houses would be welcomed by families that have moved here during the summer, or costumed to the morning here, this fall. To get writers knowledge, there are three families who intend moving here this fall, and not one of them is able to obtain suitable living quarters here.

Some of the houses that were erected years ago, off the water main and sewerage lines, have been moved to different lots, where they have been moderately, thereby actually increasing their value. It is rumored that some more houses will be moved to different lots, where they have been moderately, thereby actually increasing their value. It is rumored that some more houses will be moved to different lots, where they have been moderately, thereby actually increasing their value.

The shortage of houses in this town that has lived during the boom days and survived the worst years of the depression, should prompt a building boom in order to cope with the serious housing problem that has developed here during the past year, and which may reach more serious proportions in the future.

Ottawa—Parliamentary vacancies now stand at nine in the senate and five in the House of Commons, while a large number of administrative posts remain to be filled by Prime Minister King and his government.

There are five senate vacancies in Quebec, two in Ontario and one each in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Vacancies in the Commons are two for Quebec and one each for Alberta, Saskatchewan and Ontario.

With the exception of Calgary West which was the riding of Mr. Hon. R. B. Bennett, all the Commons vacancies were filled by Liberal Members.

THE FRIENDLY PHILOSOPHER

The trouble with you, I say to the depot agent, is that you talk too much in fact, that's the trouble with most folks. I remember when my hired man went for a buggy ride with Hank Wilson's hired girl. She didn't look so bad in the moonlight, and after they'd rode along for awhile without nothing to talk, my hired man says: "Marry will you marry me?" "Yes," she says. "The hired man didn't say nothing," and they rode along for quite a spell in silence and then Hank Wilson's hired girl jabbed my hired man in the ribs with her elbow and says, "Why don't you say something?" "Seems like there's too much said already," says my hired man. If he'd had a flashlight along with him, says the depot agent, he would've been able to look before he leaped. You're changing the subject, I say, but since you mention it, a flashlight would've thrown a lot of light on that matter. I know mine has got me out of a lot of tight spots. Anybody that's smart will have a flashlight with him every time for an emergency. Yeah!
